Wuhan Zhongbang Bank (Z-Bank) is carving a niche for itself in the Chinese banking sector by focusing on small and micro businesses (SMEs). To expand its market share of 17 million customers and counting, the bank built new high-availability, high-performance data center infrastructure based on Lenovo servers and storage. By enabling superb service continuity 24/7 and rapid innovation, Z-Bank is inspiring loyalty from existing customers and attracting new business.

“Using Lenovo technology, we can cope with high demand while maintaining the high quality of service that keeps our customers coming back to us rather than competitors.”

Yao Li,
CIO, Wuhan Zhongbang Bank
