

Keeping China's top ticketing platform online

Leading ticketing service

One of China's leading one-stop travel platforms, this company offers travel, accommodation, and leisure ticketing for both domestic and international travel. With online ticket sales soaring, the company has opened several new data centers to keep pace with growth. To maintain the expanded IT environment efficiently, the company engaged Lenovo to provide multi-site, multi-brand maintenance services for tens of thousands of servers at six data centers across the country. A team of more than 20 active and standby engineers in each city ensures rapid response times and swift issue resolution, helping to keep business operations running smoothly.
